

Ralph Becker

Mayor

WHEREAS, during the Salt Lake 2002 Olympic Winter Games, representatives of diverse faith traditions came together under the auspices of the Salt Lake Organizing Committee and formed an Interfaith Roundtable to support the Games and offer spiritual service for the greater global community; and

WHEREAS, this work of interfaith dialogue and collaboration continues, by maintaining the Olympics legacy of respect for cultural diversity, human potential, good will and world peace, in order to promote harmony and understanding among peoples of all faiths, beliefs and cultures; and

WHEREAS, because there is a need for greater understanding between different beliefs and faith traditions, we join – in the spirit of collaboration and respect – in celebration with others in our community to envision a month dedicated to fostering appreciation for the diverse faiths and beliefs in Utah;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Ralph Becker, do hereby declare February 2011 as

and encourage all residents of Salt Lake City to draw together to create better interfaith relationships.
