"Success and prosperity depend upon service to and worship of God."

Bahá'í Writings

Service and worship are at the heart of the pattern of community life that Bahá'ís around the world are trying to bring into being. They are two distinct, yet inseparable elements that propel the life of the community forward. Prayer is integral to Bahá'í life, whether at the level of the individual or the community. Bahá'ís host devotional gatherings which serve to awaken spiritual susceptibilities within the participants, and in concert with the acts of service they perform, lead to a pattern of community life that is infused with the spirit of devotion and focused on the attainment of spiritual and material prosperity.
